| Step 1. Introduction 1. Start with a hook sentence that will attract the listener's attention (a quote, a proverb, etc.). 2. Lead your speech steadily to the main part of your talk. 3. The introduction may consist of 3-6 sentences. | George P. Bidodi said: "Education is a debt that the present generation must pay to the future." Indeed , many people nowadays do one's best to gain new knowledge. They go to school , university, take various courses to acquire a good education. I believe it is impossible not to agree with the fact that nowadays education plays one of the key roles in the life of any individual. | Indeed do one's best go to school I believe it is impossible not to agree with the fact that nowadays education plays one of the key roles in the life of any individual. |
| Step 2. Education Issues 2.1. Speak about the educational system in the Russian Federation (for reference see ex.1, p.56). 2.2. Compare the educational system of any foreign country (for example, the UK, the USA, China, France, etc.) with the educational system of Russia. (Use expressions to show contrast and comparison. For reference see pp. 156, 159, 160, 162). | In Russia primary education can be obtained at school. Children start to school at the age of 7. They do one's best to get a good grade by attending classes, doing homework, taking tests and exams. At the end of their education all students take an exam, good results of which enable them to get a degree. However, not everyone succeeds. If a student fails the exam, he can retake it and get better exam results. After leaving school one can apply to university and continue studying there. Now let's compare the educational system in France and Russia. First of all, France has a centralized national curriculum, while Russia combines centralized and regional approaches to education. Secondly, French students start schooling earlier than Russian students, often in nursery school, compared to later entry into primary school in Russia. Thirdly, France emphasizes academic excellence, critical thinking, and creativity, contrasting with Russia's focus on discipline and foundational knowledge. At in al French higher education features prestigious Grandes Écoles and research-focused universities, while Russian universities offer diverse disciplines for academic growth. | In Russia primary education can be obtained at school start to school at the age of 7 to get a good grade attending classes doing homework take an exam to get a degree However If a student fails the exam, he can retake it and get better exam results fails the exam retake it get better exam results leaving school apply to university First of all Secondly Thirdly At in al |
